

Satellite TV for general public is vital to the country. We need more independent providers, not more consolodation. I urge you to oppose the selling of Rainbow DBS to Echostar. Rainbow DBS is undergoing a very public yet internal struggle to stay in business. This sale would be a death knell to those of us who hope they can remain viable and provide the absolute BEST HIGH DEFINITION TV programming on the market today. For me and the hundreds of thousands of subscribers to VOOM Satellite TV, please do not let the sale of Rainbow to Echostar.
